

NEW RIMA MAGAZINE - AVAILABLE NOW!

AWA WAHINE

AWA WAHINE MAGAZINE

Awa Wahine

Awa Wahine Magazine 'Rima' is the newest issue of a six-monthly printed magazine by Awawahine.com. Rima features astrology with the stars, fertility journeys, creative and entrepreneurial life, and more. Plus, a new Patupaiarehe comic, change-making wāhine and taonga tino rangatiratanga. With all this and much more, Rima is a must-read.

"Awa Wahine is one of the few magazines covering kaupapa that will make you/your mā/sis/friend feel better. The beautiful imagery, thick tactile pages, intelligent wānanga, and wairua-uplifting insights are best enjoyed with a cuppa in a shaft of afternoon sunlight wearing your comfiest kākahu/clothes, appropriate snacks within reach."
– Te Arawhata

While it may have a small budget and be just one collection, [Awa Wahine Magazine] is an absolute gem. I hope there are more editions as Awa Wahine creates a special space to educate, uplift and inspire a new generation of wāhine Māori writers and creatives. – Rebekah Lyell (NZ Booklovers)

RRP: $34.99

Release: May 2023

ISSN: 2744-7006

Format

148 mm x 210 mm

softcover

96 pages

Awa Wahine

ataria@awawahine.co.nz

Keywords

Wāhine, Māori, Pacific, mana wahine, feminism, hapūtanga, motherhood, pakihi, small business, pūtea, toi Māori, Māori concepts, Māori author, New Zealand author, BIPOC women

THE AUTHOR

Awa Wahine is a rūpu of wāhine Māori dedicated to supporting indigenous creators by giving them the tools and confidence to express themselves creatively. Our mission is to create impactful publishing opportunities for wāhine Māori, envisioning a world where their voices are heard and celebrated.

Sales points

- Edited by Māori women and featuring predominantly indigenous women writers, this magazine delves into topics that are important to them.
- Explore and learn from the empowering stories of Māori women, allowing other women to immerse themselves in their experiences.
- The interviews, articles and essays capture the rich diversity of contemporary Māori women's lives, offering insights into their varied experiences today.