

PAPATŪĀNUKU COLLECTION - AVAILABLE NOW!

AWA WAHINE

PAPATŪĀNUKU COLLECTION

Awa Wahine

Papatūānuku: A collection of writings by Indigenous wāhine is a powerful anthology of writing by Māori and Pacific women, offering a fresh, raw, and deeply personal tribute to Papatūānuku, the Earth Mother. Through these stories, poems, and reflections, the contributors explore the sacred connections between land, identity, and Atua Wāhine (Māori goddesses), bringing ancient wisdom into the present moment.

This collection features works from Ataria Sharman, Nicole Haerewa, Emily Hēni, Hana Buchanan, Jorja Heta, Danielle Kionasina Dilys Thomson, Jessica Hinerangi Thompson-Carr, Debbie Broughton, Whitney Nicholls-Potts, Amarlee Jagoe, Whina Te Whiu, Morgana Watson, Whitney Ebony, Teiria Davis, Teah Carlson, Shannon Campbell, Sophia Carlson, Kerry Stringer, and Hana Tawhai.

RRP: $29.99

Release: 2024

ISBN: 978-0-473-72916-5

Format

148 mm x 210 mm

softcover

106 pages

Awa Wahine

Keywords

Papatūānuku, atua wāhine, wāhine Māori, mana wahine, Indigenous storytelling, Earth Mother, Māori spirituality, women's spirituality, ecofeminism.

THE AUTHOR

Awa Wahine is dedicated to supporting indigenous creators by giving them the tools and confidence to express themselves creatively. Our mission is to create impactful publishing opportunities for wāhine Māori, envisioning a world where their voices are heard and celebrated.

Sales points

- Edited by wāhine Māori with contributions by wāhine Māori and Pacific writers on Papatūānuku (Earth Mother).
- It offers a unique opportunity for women from all walks of life to connect with Papatūānuku through the perspective of wāhine Māori and Pacific storytellers.
- Showcases the varied and vibrant ways wāhine Māori and Pacific experience and engage with Papatūānuku.
- Cover artwork by Māori Mermaid.